

AGCRA Member Benefits

To our AG / DA HR Professionals & Army Bands,

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

- Many AG Soldiers, DA Civilian HR Professionals, and Army Bands are lacking identity with the Adjutant General's Corps.
- Many are unaware that the Adjutant General's Corps Regimental Association (AGCRA) even exists.
- There are various reasons for Army HR / Band professionals not becoming AGCRA members, probably the most pressing being, "What does AGCRA offer me?"
- There are approximately 33,000 AG / Band Soldiers and HR Civilian employees assigned to all three Army components. However, only 3,300, or 10%, are AGCRA members.
- Build an Army HR Professional / Band network that will help you grow in and out of uniform.

1. Why AGCRA? When the Army transitioned to a Brigade-centric force, specifically, the Army's HR Community became more dispersed. AG professionals are now more likely in G1 Directorates, Brigade / Battalion S1 Sections, Recruiting Brigades / Battalions, Army Bands, theater-level HR units, and IMCOM MPDs.

The need for a professional AG / Band organization that can reach across all Army components is needed now more than ever. AGCRA continues to serve as the Army's professional AG / Band organization, but we need your help.

2. The Association's website, AGCRA.com, has improved. We have 100% functionality, and the website allows you to:

- View or post AGCRA or AG / Band news, announcements, information, and events.
- See separate AGCRA Chapter webpages.
- Contact AGCRA National Executive Council (NEC) members.
- View AGCRA Awards information / criteria.
- View digital copies of 1775, the AGCRA's Professional Journal.
- Shop online at the Sutler Store, including purchasing new Association memberships or renewing existing memberships.

3. "1775", the AGCRA's Professional Journal.

- Revamped to focus on Army HR professional development and Army Bands.
- Each 1775 edition is normally theme oriented.

4. Awards. AGCRA recognizes outstanding members with a variety of Association awards:

- Lifetime Achievement Award (a.k.a., Horatio Gates Gold Medal second award)
- Horatio Gates Gold Medal
- Horatio Gates Bronze Medal
- COL Robert L. Manning Achievement Medal
- Other Association awards that recognize leadership, academics, AFT, and AG Corps Soldiers and Civilians of the Year
- Visit AGCRA.com/awards for more information and procedures for award recommendation and submission.

5. Sutler Store. AGCRA products include AG Golf Polos and accessories; Men's and Women's clothing apparel w/ AG Corps & AGCRA logos (Dress Shirts, Sweatshirts, T-shirts, Ball Caps, Ties); Executive Pens and Padfolios; Novelties and Collectibles; and many other items.

6. AGCRA Chapters. AGCRA Chapters are critical to informing, promoting, and encouraging AG / HR / Band programs and initiatives. The widespread involvement of junior AG / HR / Band leaders within local Chapters will preclude the notion that AGCRA is an Association for senior leaders only.

7. AGCRA initiatives include:

- First ever AG Corps Print by the world-renowned artist Mort Kunstler
- The Annual AGCRA Scholarship Program
